

Japs Told: Surrender Arms First

Russians Give Them Until Monday Noon To Disarm and Cease Hostilities

LONDON, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Japanese troops on some sectors of the Manchuria front began surrendering today and the Red army took 20,000 prisoners, the Soviet communique announced.

Following upon Marshal Alexander Vassilevsky's ultimatum yesterday to the Japanese to turn in their arms by noon Monday, Soviet spearheads continued to drive deeply into Manchuria from all sides, the communique reported.

LONDON, Aug. 17.—(AP)—The Russians, charging that the Japanese had launched a widespread counteroffensive in Manchuria at the same time its headquarters asked Soviet troops to cease hostilities, today gave the Japanese until noon Monday to disarm and surrender.

(The Japanese government, in a broadcast recorded in the United States by FCC, "urgently requested" General MacArthur today to "take proper steps to bring about immediate cessation of the Soviet offensive.")

(The broadcast said Japanese troops were unable to cease hostilities because Russian troops "are still positively carrying on the offensive." The message did not mention the Soviet charge that the Japanese were continuing to fight.)

Marshall Alexander M. Vassilevsky said in a broadcast order "as soon as the Japanese troops began surrendering their arms, Soviet troops will discontinue war operations."

The Soviet marshal, the Moscow radio reported, said also that the Japanese did not "mention a word about capitulation" in their request that the Russians halt fighting.

Given More Time

The Japanese commander was given the added time so that he could communicate with all of his troops.

(Three hours after Vassilevsky's message was radioed to the Japanese, the Japanese Domei agency in a dispatch recorded in America by the FCC, said the Kwantung commander would send "small type aircraft" over the Manchurian front between 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. to "effect swift transmission of the order to cease all military activities and to surrender all arms.")

(Later, however, a Kwantung army headquarters broadcast in English recorded by the FCC, said "bad flying weather which makes flying by low-speed aircraft practically impossible" prevented delivery of the written order. The broadcast, which was directed to the "Allies Supreme Commander," said the order would be delivered tomorrow between 10 a. m. and 2 p. m.)

A Soviet communique said the Japanese counterattacks were made at three points and were repulsed with the Russian capture of the communications cities of Wangching, Kiamusze and Taon.

The five alternates elected were: Mrs. James Franks, Mrs. Homer Hall, Mrs. Herman Myers, Mrs. Allan Duff, and Mrs. Cecil Glenn.

Being that the convention will be held on the same night as the next meeting, the meeting will be postponed until Sept. 17.

New Plane Better Than '29

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Gen. H. H. Arnold disclosed today that U. S. air forces has a new plane "considerably better" than the B-29 Superfortress.

The new plane, he said, is capable of ranging over all East Asia from Western Pacific bases.

The chief of the army air forces gave no details of the new craft except that it has speed the same or possibly greater than the B-29. He recalled that a B-29 had recently flown from Guam to Washington, a distance of 9,000 miles, in 36 hours.

While using the Asiatic area as an example of how the new plane can operate, Arnold told a news conference that reporters could "use your own imagination" on its possibilities in the Atlantic area.

At the same time, he disclosed that he plans soon to step out as head of the AAF, explaining that he is "getting to be an old man."

As newsmen left the conference room, he told them he probably would not have many more news sessions.

Looking to future developments in aerial weapons, Arnold said the development of the atomic bomb, better V-bombs, and the new long range planes presage "a Buck Rogers conception of war."

Joseph C. Grew Resignation Is Accepted

Dean C. Acheson Appointed To Be Undersecretary

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—(AP)—President Truman announced Thursday the resignation of Joseph C. Grew as undersecretary of state and appointment of Dean C. Acheson to the post.

Grew, a veteran state department career man, resigned after 41 years in the service. He said in a letter to the President he felt the proper time has come to "lay down the responsibility of public office."

Acheson, who has been serving as an assistant secretary charged with contact work with congress, steps into the second place in the state department under Secretary of State Byrnes.

Acheson will serve as acting secretary, it is indicated, while Byrnes goes to the Big Five council of foreign ministers meeting in London.

The Acheson appointment was made during the recess of congress and his name will be submitted to the senate when congress reconvenes September 5. Speedy confirmation of the nomination is expected then.

All Manpower Controls Are Cancelled

Employees May Change Jobs Without Any Restrictions

C. M. Farris, manager of the local office of the United States Employment Service, War Manpower Commission, in Sedalia, announced that he had received instructions from the state office of the WMC that all manpower controls are cancelled effective immediately. Mr. Farris stated that this means that all employers may now hire employees without regard to their previous employment and that all employees may change jobs without restrictions. Statements of availability or referral by the local USES office are no longer required and employment ceilings are abolished.

"I desire to express my sincere thanks and appreciation for the loyal cooperation of all employers and employees with our office during the very trying period of war. We fully appreciate the fact that war restrictions and regulations, in many instances, worked a hardship on all affected, but I take pride in stating that in our office area we did not have one employer or one employee who refused to comply with the regulations."

Proud of Record

"Sedalia and Pettis County may well be proud of this record," Farris said. Farris further stated that the local office of the USES would continue to serve this community to the best of its ability in an attempt to find jobs for returning veterans and displaced war workers. Employers are urged to advise the USES office of any job openings which they have, especially for veterans. "Employers are the only ones who can hire workers," Farris said, "and it is the earnest desire of our office to cooperate with them in every way possible in order to furnish peace time jobs for every one."

No Call For Men Over 26

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Maj. T. E. Roberts, acting director of state Selective Service, said today his office had telegraphed all draft boards in Missouri to cease calling up men over 26 years of age.

The order, Roberts said, was in compliance with President Truman's announcement that men over 26 would not be drafted now that the war is over.

State headquarters also notified induction centers to return any men over 26 who have been en route when the President's announcement was made Aug. 15.

Men who enlist for service are not covered by the order, Major Roberts said.

Japs Ordered To Face Stark Reality Calmly

By The Associated Press

Japan's new royal premier, Prince Gen. Naruhiko Higashikuni, issued orders to all officers and men of the Japanese imperial armed forces "to refrain from any outbursts of emotion at the sacrifice of their sentiment, and face stark reality calmly and squarely," the Tokyo radio said today.

The Domei dispatch, recorded by the Associated Press, said the order to the army to observe the emperor's imperial rescript was issued in Higashikuni's capacity as war minister, a post he holds concurrently with the premiership in the new cabinet.

Reds Decline To Discuss War Prisoners

Has Disputed Plan For Uniform Return To Germany

By Jack Bell

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Russia has declined to discuss the fate of hundreds of thousands of German prisoners in her hands.

Disclosed today by a high official, this development of the Potsdam conference has disrupted attempts to reach an Allied agreement for the systematic return of captured Germans to civil life in all parts of Germany.

American occupation forces have proceeded on schedule to screen and release prisoners not held for war crimes. But so far as this country's representatives have been able to learn, Russia has released few, if any, of the men it holds.

The supposition in official quarters here is that the Russians already have put many of these prisoners to work in rebuilding Soviet factories and cities devastated by the German invaders.

Labor Usage

The Russians long ago made known their intention of utilizing forced labor for reconstruction. It was one of the major problems discussed at Yalta by the late President Roosevelt, former Prime Minister Churchill and Generalissimo Stalin.

The Soviets were represented as contending that German civilians as well as prisoners, who fell under control of the Russian armies should be pressed into service.

While the Americans apparently expressed opposition to the use of what has been called in our country "slave labor," the Russians reputedly argued that a decimated German industry could not employ all available German manpower, hence it should be used by the victor countries.

Ban Is Off Sports Travel

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—(AP)—The Office of Defense Transportation today formally lifted all restrictions on sports travel.

In a statement, Col. J. Monroe Johnson, ODT director, announced "discontinuance of the voluntary travel restrictions on major professional sports, intercollegiate and high school athletics, and bowling."

He added this precaution: "Temperance in the use of sports transportation is wise to avoid any resumption of restrictions."

Johnson pointed out that "this is not an invitation to go hog wild in travel" because, he said, the rail transportation will continue to be extremely difficult.

Johnson said that sports were entitled to early consideration in the easing of restrictions "because of their voluntary agreement" and "certainly the civilian morale and recreational angles are to be considered."

Jap Suicides, Leaves Note

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Japanese navy ministry announced Friday afternoon (Japanese time) that Vice-Admiral Takijiro Onishi, vice-chief of the navy general staff, had committed suicide, leaving a note which said he wanted to "make atonement to the souls of my former subordinates and to members of their bereaved families," the Tokyo radio said.

Onishi was the originator of the Kamikaze (suicide) special attack corps and since May 29 was commander of the naval suicide forces.

The broadcast, recorded by the Associated Press, said Onishi, former commander-in-chief of Japanese naval air forces in the Philippines, took his life at his official residence at 3 a. m., Japanese time, Thursday, and left this note.

Express Gratitude

"To the spirits of members of the special attack corps, I express my deep gratitude to you who have fought so well. Ever convinced of final victory you fell gallantly as human bullets. But I desire to make atonement to the souls of my former subordinates and to members of their bereaved families."

Curt Orders From McArthur; New Jap Cabinet Convenes

New Premier Orders Army To "Strictly Observe" Rescript And Lay Down Arms

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Gen. Prince Naruhiko Higashikuni was sworn in as Japan's new premier today and in his first official act as premier-war minister ordered the army to "strictly observe" an imperial rescript to lay down their arms.

"The decision has been taken to cease fire and return to peace," he declared.

The new post-war cabinet, in which the royal premier who may himself be tried as a war criminal retained the war portfolio, went into session immediately after it was sworn in.

The Japanese Domei News Agency quickly went on the air with the announcement that the first duties of the new cabinet would be the signing of the surrender, or "the peace terms," and "fulfillment of the Potsdam declaration to be enforced."

The first meeting of the cabinet lasted an hour and a half, Domei reported, and was taken up principally with the premier's plea for full cooperation from his ministers.

Must Be Calm

"Once we have laid down our arms," said the broadcast recorded by FCC, "we must take up matters with absolute calmness. If there should be any incident in violation of his majesty's command, we will lose the confidence of the world. The new cabinet must see that the work is carried out with great care."

"The second thing which we must bear in mind is that we must recover ourselves from the ravages of war and plunge into the work of reconstruction at the earliest possible moment."

The cabinet, scheduled to be the first ever to function under an alien occupation force, includes ministers of munitions and of greater East Asia—both of whose functions would be eliminated by official surrender.

Domei Agency said the cabinet—including three members of ousted Premier Kantaro Suzuki's last war cabinet—held its first meeting at Higashikuni's residence immediately after the investiture ceremony.

Breaking Records

Higashikuni himself assumed the war portfolio, vacated by the kara-kiri of Gen. Korechika Anami to atone for his "failure" as minister.

Domei's brief report that the cabinet was in session gave no hint of subjects under discussion. It is the first Japanese cabinet ever headed by a member of the royal family.

Domei emphasized that it also was the first time the emperor had selected a premier without consulting advisers to the throne, and that "all portfolios except war and navy have been given to civilians, Generals and admirals who held several posts in past cabinets were excluded in selecting new ministers."

German Submarine Surrenders Today

MAR DEL PLATA, Argentina, Aug. 17.—(AP)—A German submarine surrendered here today to Argentine naval authorities.

The Chamber of Commerce is suggesting that Sedalians who have rooms to rent to State Fair visitors place a "Rooms for Rent" sign on the house. 'Cease Fire' Orders On Way

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Three Japanese parties carrying the imperial "cease fire" message to field commanders in Manchuria, China and "the south," left Tokyo at 9:30 a. m. today (7:30 p. m. Central War Time, Aug. 16) Japanese general headquarters said in a message to General MacArthur today.

The message, transmitted in English over the official station JNP, said that "in order to avoid possible delay due to bad weather," the party for the south also left at the same time as the party for China and Manchuria, although previously scheduled to have departed on August 18.

The type and markings of the planes were as communicated to the Allied supreme commander in previous messages, the radiogram said.

The message, sixth in the series from the imperial headquarters to MacArthur recorded by the federal communications commission, was rated number seven at the start and then referred to as number six. FCC monitors were unable to explain the mixup, but said no other number six had been received.

Cut Death Sentence To Imprisonment

DeGaulle Approves Statement Court Wrote Into Verdict

PARIS, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Gen. De Gaulle today commuted Marshal Petain's death sentence to life imprisonment.

The action consisted of approving a statement the court wrote into its verdict which expressed the wish that the execution not be carried out.

A jury of the high court of justice condemned the 89-year-old head of the Vichy regime to death for betraying the state to the Germans during the occupation.

Petaim denied the charge but made no plea for his life.

The state presented a battery of former politicians including former Premiers Paul Reynaud, Edouard Daladier, Edouard Herriot and Leon Blum to denounce Petaim's actions from the 1940 armistice until the collapse of Germany.

Laval A Witness

Petaim's defense was offered mainly from a long array of French generals, including Maxime Weygand, who was commander in chief at the time of the armistice. An unexpected witness was Pierre Laval, described as Petaim's "evil genius," who occupied the stand for two days after being brought to France after his exit from Spain. Laval's testimony was chiefly a defense of himself. Both he and Weygand face trials.

The jury was composed of 12 parliamentarians and 12 drawn from resistance organizations.

May End Meat Ration Soon

By Ovid A. Martin

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson said today he believes it may be possible to eliminate meat rationing in the "very near future"—possibly as early as September.

In an exclusive interview, the secretary states that an examination of demand and supply prospects as of today indicated that supplies not needed for military and other non-civilian requirements are rising sharply.

Anderson said that latest figures indicate that civilian meat supplies for the October-December quarter will be at the annual per capita rate of 143 pounds, compared with less than 120 pounds so far this year.

The supply will be even greater, he said, should there be an "excessively heavy" run of cattle to market this fall.

Improvement in the meat situation, he said, reflects the cutback in military needs, uncertainty as to whether financial arrangements will be made for sending large quantities of meat to war-liberated Europe and a peace-hastened run of cattle to market.

Tells Japanese To Comply To Orders; Tokyo Quibbling Over Conference

By Russell Brines

MANILA, Saturday, Aug. 18.—(AP)—General MacArthur announced at 2:45 a. m. today that the Japanese government had notified him that its surrender emissaries had been selected and would leave by plane tomorrow for Manila.

This word came from the defeated enemy after two days of quibbling on the part of Tokyo and after MacArthur had curtly told Japan to comply with his directives "without further delay."

Text of the Japanese message follows:

"From Japanese GHQ to Supreme Allied Commander, radiogram, 7 A 17. Our representative to Manila selected. Due to necessary internal procedure he is scheduled to leave Tokyo on August 19. Further details will follow."

The Allied supreme commander did not set a deadline for the departure of the Japanese envoys but indicated definitely he would tolerate no extended delay without good reason.

"The directive from this headquarters is clear and explicit and is to be complied with without further delay," the stern message said.

The Japanese wanted to know if the emissary would be required to sign surrender papers and MacArthur replied no.

The latest development in the tangled long-distance wireless negotiations occurred after Emperor Hirohito had strengthened his "cease fire" order with an imperial rescript to the armed forces to lay down their arms and had sent urgent messages on a number of points.

Want Russians To Quit

The Japanese emperor asked: (1) That the Russians halt their Manchuria offensive, (2) Allied forces "refrain from approaching Japan proper temporarily" and (3) the additional instructions regarding the preliminary conference.

Hirohito backed up his order to cease fire with an imperial rescript, which Radio Tokyo said "called upon the army and navy to lay down their arms." The rescript carries more weight with the Japanese than his previous order.

Another message to the Allied commander advised that imperial parties carrying the cease fire rescript to armed forces in China, Manchuria and "the south" had left Tokyo. The southern party left a day early to avoid possible delay by weather.

Japan said her planes inflicted some damage in attacks on a dozen Allied transports yesterday because they "approached extremely near the coast of Kochi, Shikoku," Wireless Messages.

These startling developments were the latest to come out of long distance wireless negotiations in which the Japanese already have made it necessary to put off the Manila meeting, scheduled for today, until at least some time next week.

The messages, sent on the frequency designated by MacArthur for official communications, were listed as radiograms "three, four and five."

Number five "urgently requested" MacArthur to "take proper steps to bring about immediate cessation of the Soviet offensive." (Moscow broadcasts said the Soviet commander, Marshal Alexander M. Vassilevsky, had instructed the Japanese commander in Manchuria to arrange for surrender by next Monday and said the Russians would prosecute the offensive vigorously until the Japanese threw down their arms.)

Jacob Is an Example of a Man Who Bettered Himself by Religion

Scripture: Genesis, Chapters 27 and 28

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

Jacob at his worst was one of the meanest and shiftest characters on record, either in Holy Writ or in the secular records of human life. He tricked his elder brother, Esau, out of the birthright, and in other incidents he showed himself a cowardly and selfish man.

But Jacob at his best proved to be a man upon whom something could be built, where as the more likable, good-natured Esau, like many likable, good-natured men, was weak and undependable, unwilling to bear much responsibility. Jacob at his best, too, had some remarkable spiritual experiences. Perhaps the Bible tells us so much about Jacob, at his worst and at his best, and about these experiences, because even mean and shifty men can be saved from their meanness and shiftness, and can have visions of ladders reaching to heaven, and can find God—for God is no respecter of persons, and does help those who call upon Him in sincerity and truth, even if their characters and past conduct have not been what they ought to have been.

The story in Genesis of Jacob cheating Esau out of his birthright, and of Rebekah's part in it, is about as unpleasant as a story could be. Rebekah as the scheming and deceitful mother is in strange contrast to Rebekah the young girl, giving drink to the emissary of Abraham and to his camels, when he had come seeking a wife for Isaac. How could so fine a young woman develop into so deceitful a mother, favoring one son against the other, and stooping to low fraud to achieve her ends?

In the primitive life of all peoples are stories and legends that are not always marked by high moral conceptions. When these become incorporated in later historical records we discriminate between the good and the bad; and we must do the same in these stories of the early life of Israel, remembering that the records were not written until long after the events. We ought to admire the honesty and spiritual courage with which the Biblical writers set down the unfavorable and the dark as well as the favorable and the bright. It is this that makes the Bible so notable in its integrity.

Jacob had to escape from the wrath of Esau, and his mother helped to get him away. But despite the blessing of his father he wasn't happy. Worn out, as the sun went down, and as darkness came on, he lay down with stones for a pillow. Even a tired man in that situation might expect a restless sleep and unhappy dreams; but Jacob had a dream that threw him into fear, and brought him face to face with God.

Had he been only fearful, that would have been the end of the matter; but the best in Jacob came out, and the revolution that was to make him a better man began. His vow to God was in the nature of a bargaining vow—if you do so much for me, I'll do so much for you. But he made a pillar-altar out of his pillow of stones, and poured oil on it as an act of worship.

Thus he made a religious beginning. A man who begins to be religious, can get a better religious experience—a better religion. He can grow in grace. It is the man who never makes a beginning who comes to nothing; and Jacob did come to something better. Bethel was the first step, Pottiel (Genesis 32:30) saw him really a changed man.

On Lying

There are good people who shudder at the mere thought of perjury. They would never tell a deliberate, harmful lie. But they too frequently condone the so-called "white lie." "What harm can it do?" they ask. "Don't we all tell a falsehood now and then if it helps to make things a little smoother for others as well as ourselves?"

There are times when not to lie seems callous and cruel. One might be tempted to invent a plausible lie to keep a sick mother from knowing her absent son, who never writes home, has been sent to prison. It is easy enough to forgive the "charitable" lie. But should we, at the same time, seek to deny that lying, because of its very nature, is always sinful.

If we believe in truth, we must, of necessity, abhor its opposite. If we think a lie is "harmless," let us think of a pebble dropped in a pool of water. Scientists say the shock of the immersion is felt beyond the farthest star. How can we be sure the "innocent" lie will not have repercussions far beyond our infinite imagining?

Older people may display what seems an exaggerated horror when a child is caught in a lie. But it is a good thing to impress on the young how important it is to curb tendencies that might otherwise grow beyond control. We should not forget that what is bad in a magnified form is also bad in its smallest proportions.

A lie may be compared to a small flame. Often the flame dies out and no harm is done, except to the liar's own integrity. But sometimes the flame is kindled into a great conflagration in which millions may perish. We should remember the evil that springs from the glittering lie of the politicians, from the cunning lie of the historian. We should remember what incalculable tragedy has overtaken the peoples of Germany and Japan through the calculated lies of the propagandist.

Through Blazing Board Wall

Hurling a racing motorcycle through a blazing board wall is all in a day's work for Paul Bjork and speed is his only salvation when huge tongues of flame and shattered timbers impede his meteoric drive. Bjork has what it takes to do such spectacular stunts for he flew 66 missions over the European theatre and wears the Distinguished Flying Cross as well as the Air Medal with 12 Oak Leaf Clusters. Bjork, since being retired from service a month back, has joined the All-American Thrill Drivers and will be seen in action with his congeries of automobile and motorcycle stuntmen at the Missouri State Fair Sunday afternoon, August 26, Thrill Day, at the Sedalia exposition.

'Take It Easy' Is Caution Of Highway Patrol Head

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 17.—(P)—Take it easy! That's the word of caution Thursday from Col. Hugh Waggoner of the state highway patrol. He wants every motorist in Missouri to heed it.

Your chances of finishing an automobile trip alive and unharmed, declares the director of the patrol, have been noticeably diminished by:

Your car. Sturdily it has gone about its task of transporting you during the war years, but, like the old gray mare, definitely "ain't what she used to be." For instance, the patrol recently tested the brakes on 30,000 cars and 6,000 sets—one in every five—proved faulty in alignment or strength.

Your tires. Although gasoline has been put back on the "all you want" list, tires are still scarce and retreads or "no-treads" just aren't safe enough to drive at high speeds.

The highways. Despite the state Highway Department's efforts, both materials and labor have been mighty hard to find for four years.

Your own mental state. America has just won two wars. The dread and fear of war is gone. Your exuberance may lead you to drive at speeds greater than your automobile or your own alertness can stand.

More Cars Over Hills

Then too, for several years now you have been driving in light traffic. Perhaps you've got the easy habit of using the center of the road and not expecting many cars—even on the hills and curves. But lots of cars are coming back on the roads now and they're in no better condition than yours—perhaps not as good.

A pretty definite idea of what is in store, Colonel Waggoner believes, can be simply told in figures:

In July, 1944, Missouri had traffic accidents which cost 26 lives. But last month—after America had won the European end of the world war and "A" card drivers began to get six in still of four gallons for every gasoline coupon—there were just twice as many traffic deaths. That figure is not much lower than the 65 traffic fatalities in Missouri in July of 1941, before the U. S. entered the war.

Thus far the patrol has been pleasantly surprised at the few bad accidents in Missouri since the war ended. To keep things that way, Colonel Waggoner says, Just take it easy.

The Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Having made the decision to work with and through the emperor in governing post war Japan, our problem now is not to be fooled by him and the court "moderates" as was Ambassador Joe Grew, who up until just before Pearl Harbor kept telling the state department that the emperor didn't want war and that everything would be all right.

U. S. plans for governing Japan to date chiefly call for taking away its colonies and its raw materials for making war. But what our state and war department planners fail to realize is that many nations, such as Belgium, Portugal and Holland may have colonies abroad without being aggressive, and that the wiping out of Japanese belligerency is a far deeper problem. It gets down to a democratic change in the whole outlook and philosophy of the Japanese people.

It is doubtful if they can be persuaded to give up the idea that Japanese are born to rule the world until they also give up shintoism, and state religion which teaches just exactly that, and which revolves around the person of the emperor.

Hirohito probably is, as Mr. Grew maintains, a moderate man, much more moderate than the militarists around him. However, emperors come and go. And it is the system which they represent, a system which teaches all devout and loyal Japanese that war and conquest are an essential part of their life, which stands between us and permanent peace.

The best description of how Joe Grew was completely hoodwinked by the charming and "moderate" nobility around the emperor is told by a young U. S. naval officer, Andrew Roth, who was promptly clapped into jail after his book was submitted to superior officers for clearance, and who still faces a charge of using government documents for his own gain. However, when and if his book, "Dilemma in Japan" is published by Little Brown and Co., it will be something every American interested in peace in the Pacific should read. I am indebted to Lieutenant Roth for some excellent material on this subject.

Hirohito and Big Business
Most important thing for our military governors to remember about Hirohito is that—(1) he is hog-tied by and is a part of the five big business families of Japan which helped promote Japanese conquest of China, and which wax fat on wars; and (2), he is the heart and soul of a state religion which preaches war.

That is what our former ambassador to Japan, Mr. Grew, so tragically failed to grasp before Pearl Harbor and what he has continued to ignore when, as undersecretary of state, he has sold a policy of emperor-retention to Secretary Byrnes and President Truman.

How charming and ingratiating the Japanese nobility can be (or else or naive our ambassador was) is indicated by Grew's own diary and by some of the telegrams he sent back to the state department just six weeks before Pearl Harbor. It was obvious from Grew's reports that the imperial courtiers of Hirohito wrapped our ambassador around their little fingers.

Not only did he urge that we continue sending oil and scrap iron to Japan, but in late October 1941, after the bloodthirsty General Tojo actually had become prime minister, Grew was so naive and short-sighted as to inform the state department that Tojo "would resign" if he failed to iron out U. S.-Japanese troubles in the peace talks which the world later realized were a mere smoke-screen for the attack on Pearl Harbor.

Six weeks after Grew's childishly trusting report, the "moderate" emperor whom he trusted and still trusts, savagely declared a Holy war against the United States.

Despite that previous error which may have contributed to our being caught napping at Pearl Harbor, Ed Stettinius later picked Grew to be his assistant secretary of state, and we have since accepted Grew's advice regarding retention of the emperor.

Note — Some diplomats now point out that with Grew, an official of the U. S. government, making public statements favorable to the emperor during the war, it was only natural for the Japanese to accept the bait dangled before them and propose keeping the emperor. After all, Grew holds the second most important post in the conduct of our foreign affairs. And the Japanese would have been foolish, in view of Grew's known views, not to have taken advantage of them.

How To Create Peaceful Japan
The chief problem facing U. S. governors of Japan is how to wean Japanese psychology away from the idea that Japan's future can only be solved through military aggression. Making this conversion with the emperor still on the throne is going to be difficult—because he has been the spearhead of the conquest theory in the past.

However, the emperor has not been such a sacrosanct institution in the past as the Grew school of thought would have us believe. Twice during the reign of Emperor Meiji, grandfather of Hirohito, there was rebellion against him, suppressed only after terrific slaughter. Once there was even an attempt to assassinate Hirohito.

And when the former mayor of

IV

THE real origins of the Japanese dynasty are lost in the dim recesses of prehistoric times. But Japan's historic times did not begin till the middle of the fifth century of our era, when the Japanese learned to read and write from the Chinese and began to convert tribal mythology into national history. Prior to that time, Japanese history consisted of myths and legends transmitted by guilds of hereditary reciters who, like the troubadours of the Middle Ages, made their living by singing the praises of the mighty who fed them. Naturally, the more food, the more praise, which meant the higher the reward for the higher the ancestry attributed to the praised. In that way, numerous noble Japanese families acquired "divine" ancestors, and the Imperial family, as the mightiest of all, saw to it that its descent was the highest of all. By the time the Japanese had learned to read and write the Imperial myth had become gospel truth which dominated all Japanese thinking.

By comparing them with contemporary Chinese and Korean records, historians have come to the conclusion that the Japanese dynasty became a recognizable government some time around the beginning of the Christian era. But the Japanese "Bibles" and official doctrine proclaim that it goes back to the beginnings of the earth.

There has been deliberate falsification of the time element in Japanese myths and even forgery of the calendar by Japanese chroniclers for a very definite political purpose. It served to establish the supremacy of the Imperial Family, and it helped to revive this supremacy after it had been lost. For the fact is that for a thousand years, from around 800 A. D. to 1867, the Japanese Emperors were completely relegated to the role of puppets, or rather to the role of Gods who must not soil their divine fingers with politics.

Puppet Emperors

This eclipse of the Emperors was brought about largely by the introduction of Buddhism in the sixth century, which gave the men behind the throne another religious instrument to work with, and which for a time completely overshadowed Shinto, the foundation of Imperial rule. Buddhism brought forth the classical age of Japanese literature, but also an age of high living and extravagance comparable to the age of the French Louis. The Emperors fell first under the rule of their mistresses, and then under the sway of Buddhist priests. They spent most of their time in idleness and debauchery, punctuated by poetizing and elaborate temple ceremonies, while the actual government was carried on by others. These others were first a family of major-domos, the Fujiwaras, of whom Prince Fumimaro Koyama is the present head. With the aid of brains and Buddhist priests, the Fujiwaras soon brought the whole Imperial family under their thumb. They married their daughters to the Emperors, while their sons monopolized all important government posts.

Beginning with the middle of the 11th century, however, the civilian rule of the Fujiwaras came to an end and was replaced by an age of civil wars, leading to military dictatorships by the Shoguns, or Taikuns—chiefs of rival clans who gained power by beating down their rivals. These dictators ruled nominally in the name of the Emperors and by theoretical appointment from the throne.

Restored to Power

In the 18th and 19th centuries, when German nationalism began to assume forms which culminated in Nazism, the Japanese, confronted with a breakdown of feudal economy and the rise of a merchant class clamoring for foreign outlets, likewise began to look for a new impulse to national life. They found it in Shinto. Japanese scholars revived, refurbished, reinterpreted and further falsified—the ancient myths and staged a great Shinto revival which, by re-emphasizing the "divine" rights of the Emperors, put the Taikuns in the light of usurpers and thus laid the ideological foundation for their overthrow. This came in 1867, after Commodore Perry had opened the doors of Japan. Feudalism went overboard and the Emperors were restored to direct rule under Hirohito's grandfather.

Today, by a transformation of Shinto as portentous to the world as its previous revival was to Japan, Japanese leaders have proclaimed the Japanese Emperor as the Emperor of the World. Digging up an obscure passage attributed to Jimmu, they have converted it into a divine command for Japanese world conquest.

This passage enunciates what is now known as the Hakkio Ichu principle, constantly referred to in official Japanese pronouncements as the "principle of the Empire-founding."

FROM the standpoint of Hakkio Ichu, the Emperor of Japan is the Emperor not only of Japan but also of all the races of the world. Judging from the present condition of our Imperial Majesty, he is the Emperor of Japan alone at the present time, but his Majesty of Japan is the Emperor of the world, for the spirit of Hakkio Ichu has been the traditional principle of our nation.—Tadahiko Imaizumi, over Tokyo Radio, Oct. 12, 1942.

"If the ways of the Emperor were understood fully by the people of the world there should be no objection in having our Emperor as the ruler of the world. Under the principle of Hakkio Ichu, our Emperors were authorized to extend the rule of peace and happiness to the entire world. The foundation of international peace must be based upon the Imperial House of Japan."—Tadahiko Imaizumi, over Tokyo Radio, Oct. 13, 1942.

Looking Backward Forty Years Ago

Charles Van Antwerp has bought the Cord Brandt stock of groceries at No. 608 Ohio street and will take possession on September 1. The store will be under the management of Lee Licklider, a popular young groceryman. The grocery will be conducted entirely separate from the Monarch laundry, which will continue, as formerly, under the able and successful management of Mr. Van Antwerp, proprietor of the laundry establishment.

Dr. Griggs, the veterinary surgeon, had a narrow escape from a disastrous runaway at 7:30 o'clock last evening. He was going east on Seventh street, driving a pair of spirited brown ponies to a top buggy. As he crossed the street car track, on Ohio street, the tongue became unfastened from the neck yoke and fell to the ground. The team became frightened and began to kick and run. The doctor held the lines, and, after running to Washington avenue with the tongue dragging, succeeded in stopping the team without damage, to the surprise of all who witnessed the mishap.

The rural schools of the county will open in two weeks—on Monday, September 4.

Jr. Legion Loses 1 To 2 To Jeff City

Excellent Playing On Part Of Both Clubs In A Night Game

The Junior Legion baseball club, sponsored by Pettis County Post No. 16, American Legion, lost another tough game—it being to the Jefferson City Junior Legion by a score of 1 to 2. It was Jefferson City, that Sedalia defeated at Marshall in the district play-off for the right to go to the State tournament. The game was played Wednesday night at Jefferson City.

Although their first experience in playing baseball under the lights, the local team played heads up baseball, and the game on the part of both ball clubs was outstanding. Baseball fans praised both clubs, many remarking they didn't see how Sedalia was eliminated at St. Louis, after the playing they displayed at Jefferson City, and also how, Jefferson City was defeated by Sedalia at Marshall.

Schumaker, played one of the best games of the year. He "picked off" two runners, one at third base with no outs and another on first base. Buddy Thomas played his usual game, also hit two safeties out of four trips to the plate, and scored Sedalia's only run after he singled and Tuggle also singled.

Ralph Walker, at first base played a great game and May's pitching was supreme, although he was the losing pitcher. J. Waters in the fourth got a two-base hit but nothing occurred to carry him on around to home plate.

Something unusual about the game was the fact Jefferson City had only four assists, the pitcher having two, and the others by second base and third base.

Sunday the Junior Legion returns to Sedalia and will meet the baseball team from the Missouri Training school of Boonville. This game is expected to be a close contest and will begin at 2:30 o'clock.

Need Jobs For All Is Stressed

President Gives Plans For The Country During Peace Time

(By The Associated Press)
President Truman lists peace time plans. Asks for temporary renewal of no-strike, no-lockout pledge. Warns "full employment" bill passed.

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
WASHINGTON, Aug. 16. — (AP) — President Truman brought out a hatful of plans for America today. Above all he emphasized the need for full employment — and no strikes or lockouts for a while, at least.

Meantime, in a fast-moving day on the domestic front, the army said huge military cutbacks will assure more meat for civilians and enough coal next winter.

Mr. Truman called upon management and labor for a temporary renewal of their wartime no-strike and no-lockout pledge.

He asked that the pledge be given until a meeting between management and labor—which he will call when congress reassembles in September—could be held.

Employment Plan
While he was making the request CIO President Phillip Murray served notice that practically all major CIO unions would start immediately to reopen contracts for higher wages under the government's new wage policies.

Those policies are: Raises can be granted where they don't call for an increase in the prices of the things the workers turn out. Mr. Truman said his employment plan is "must" legislation. It would enable the government to set up yearly a program envisioning "full employment," even if the government has to provide work.

He gave these other plans of his to a news conference:

The genius of the scientists who produced the atomic bomb will be turned now to finding a way of making the atom's power benefit mankind.

Mr. Truman will ask congress to set up a peacetime military training program which, however, he said will not be conscription.

The army said its cutbacks in coal within the next 12 months would make 120 million tons available for homes and factories. The shortage, they estimated, has been 25 million tons.

And—Mr. Truman wants to eliminate the war labor board — which sat on wages and was the government's troubleshooter between management and labor in wartime—as soon after the labor-management conference as its duties can be turned over to other agencies.

Some of the meat involved in their cutback, army officials said, was intended for "C" rations overseas but these will not be needed and the meat will be available for civilians.

And because of tremendous cuts in military supplies, the same officials said the present freight situation would be helped so sharply that it should cease to exist as "of today."

Other Developments

On top of all the President said came these other developments:

1. Some travel restrictions were relaxed. All wartime bans went off taxicabs, automobile racing, and regional and state fairs. There can be conventions of up to 150 persons. They were limited to 50 in wartime. They seemed likely Americans would get a cut in their income taxes—a moderate cut—by Jan. 1.

3. The army airforces canceled planned production of 31,000 planes. They would have cost 9 billion dollars.

4. The Maritime Commission arranged to cancel some merchant ship contracts. In general, only those more than half-built now will be completed.

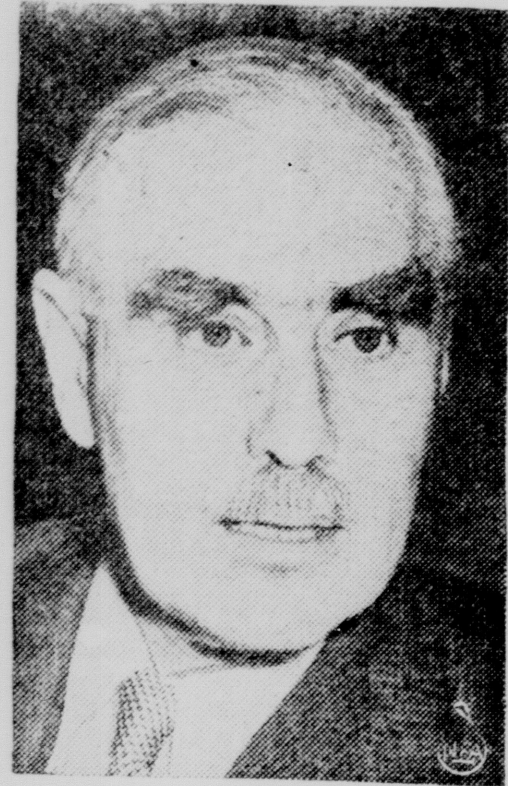

5. The house appropriations committee, wanting to cut down

Resigns

Joseph C. Grew

Undersecretary of State to quit post after many years of service.

Joseph C. Grew Resignation Is Accepted

Dean C. Acheson Appointed To Be Undersecretary

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—(AP)—President Truman announced today the resignation of Joseph C. Grew as undersecretary of state and appointment of Dean C. Acheson to the post.

Grew, a veteran state department career man, resigned after 41 years in the service. He said in a letter to the President he felt the proper time has come to "lay down the responsibility of public office."

Acheson, who has been serving as an assistant secretary charged with contact work with congress, steps into the second place in the state department under Secretary of State Byrnes.

Acheson will serve as acting secretary, it is indicated, while Byrnes goes to the Big Five council of foreign ministers meeting in London.

The Acheson appointment was made during the recess of congress and his name will be submitted to the senate when congress reconvenes September 5. Speedy confirmation of the nomination is expected then.

The President's Proclamation

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—(AP)—President Truman today issued the following proclamation:

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA — A PROCLAMATION

The war lords of Japan and the Japanese armed forces have surrendered. They have surrendered unconditionally. Three months after victory in Europe victory has come in the East.

The cruel war of aggression which Japan started eight years ago to spread the forces of evil over the Pacific has resulted in her total defeat.

This is the end of the grandiose schemes of the dictators to enslave the peoples of the world, destroy their civilization, and institute a new era of darkness and degradation. This day is a new beginning in the history of freedom on this earth.

Our global victory has come from the courage and stamina and spirit of free men and women united in determination to fight.

It has come from the massive strength of arms and materials created by peace-loving peoples who knew that unless they won decency in the world would end.

It has come from millions of peaceful citizens all over the world — turned soldiers almost overnight — who showed a ruthless enemy that they were not afraid to fight and to die, and that they knew how to win.

It has come with the help of God, who was with us in the early days of adversity and disaster, and who has now brought us to this glorious day of triumph.

Let us give thanks to Him, and remember that we have now dedicated ourselves to follow in His ways to a lasting and just peace and to a better world.

Now, therefore, I, Harry S. Truman, president of the United States of America, do hereby appoint Sunday, August 19, 1945, to be a day of prayer.

I call upon the people of the United States, of all faiths, to unite in offering their thanks to God for the victory we have won, and in praying that He will support and guide us into the paths of peace.

I also call upon my countrymen to dedicate this day of prayer to the memory of those who have given their lives to make possible our victory.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington this sixteenth day of August,

In the year of Our Lord Nineteen Hundred and Forty-five, and of the Independence of the United States of America the One Hundred and Seventieth.

HARRY S. TRUMAN

L. B. Dowdy Guesses Well; Wins $1,598

Notified by One Of His Buddies In Philippines

If a boost in morale can have anything to do with it, Leonard B. Dowdy should recover quickly from the major operation he recently underwent at the Farragut, Idaho, naval hospital—because he has just won $1,598.00.

And all that for the sum total of two bucks he "kicked in" on the Battalion leave jackpot quite some time ago!

Dowdy served with the navy in the Philippines two years and ten months. His wife resides at 105 South Park avenue and his father, J. E. Dowdy, lives on RFD 2, Sedalia.

Explanatory Letter
The letter informing him of his good luck follows:

"The Philippines 8 August 1945
"Leonard B. Dowdy
Sedalia, Missouri

"Dear Dowdy:
"Here's something that may be a surprise to you, but you may also recall that you picked July 29, 1945, as the date the 88th Battalion would arrive in the United States on leave.

"Well, the 88th is not going back on leave as a Battalion, but we did send one group of 44 men home on rehabilitation leave, this group reaching Frisco on July 27. You were only two days off, so here's the prize of $1,598.00, and I know it will come in damn handy. Congratulations, Len, and I hope you put this to good use.

Job Practically Completed
"I wish you would do me a favor and write the Island X-Press a letter acknowledging receipt of this jackpot check from me.

"As you may know, the Old Batt is now together again, and our job here is practically completed, but when we will get to go home is a question.

"By the way, one of the fellows who went back in the first group of 44 men was Paul Edwards. If you see him, please give him my regards. If I ever hit Sedalia I'm going to call on you and let you buy me a drink of whiskeyboozie. They still make the stuff, don't they?

"Did you know that Louie Longo also got home on an emergency leave? He flew all the way and is now stationed at (Please Turn To Page 2 Col. 1)

Victims of Celebration

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 16.—(AP)—Two persons were killed and 40 others injured while the St. Louis area celebrated the end of the war.

Rudolph Sommer, 53, and Mrs. Mary O'Connell, 70, were killed in separate auto accidents. A street car collision resulted in injuries to 36 persons early yesterday. None was seriously hurt.

About 200,000 To Soon Be Home

PARIS, Aug. 16.—(AP)—About 200,000 high point soldiers are scheduled to return home during September, United States forces in the European theater announced today.

Two more divisions, the Fifth and 14th Armored, have been alerted to leave for the United States.

All soldiers in the European theater were granted a one-day holiday for Friday as a victory celebration. The day will be free of any official ceremonies.

Predict Boom For The Ozarks

Urge Camps And Hotel Operators Prepare For It

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 16.—(AP)—Predicting a tourist boom for the Missouri Ozarks with the end of gasoline rationing, the state resources and development commission got set for it today by:

Elevating Hugh Denney from acting director to director; urging tourist camp, hotel and restaurant operators to refurbish their places for the expected influx of vacationers, and deciding to ask the legislature for additional funds to advertise Missouri vacation spots nationally.

"By the time autumn colors the Ozark leaves there will be a great influx of tourists in this region," Denney said. "Tourist accommodations in the Ozarks are already overtaxed and the increase can be taken care of only if places closed during the war are reopened or if present facilities are expanded."

Recognizing that many servicemen with G. I. loans may want to go into business for themselves, the commission offered its services in helping them find locations for cabin camp or eating places. It also adopted a veterans' preference plan in hiring future employees.

At the same time it agreed to seek an addition to its present $112,000 annual appropriation. "We need national advertising," Denney said, "to place Missouri alongside other states in the race for tourist business and new industries."

Denney has been acting director of the department since last January, when Frank Ridgway resigned. Since June 1944, he has been in charge of tourist and recreational development for the agency. His home is Savannah, Mo.

St. Louisians Minus Papers

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 16.—(AP)—Forty-eight hours after Japanese acceptance of surrender terms, St. Louisians were without news, except radio reports, because of a strike of paper carriers who set up a picket line which pressmen and flyboys affiliated with the same AFL union would not cross.

The Post-Dispatch and the Star-Times, both afternoon papers, missed all three daily editions today and the Globe-Democrat, a morning paper, did not publish its four editions tonight. All three papers are members of the St. Louis Newspaper Publishers' Association.

Charles D. Bond, business agent for the AFL Paper Carriers' Local 450A, affiliated with the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants' union, said the strike was "entirely legal," having been authorized by the International union officers.

Ban on Fairs Is Removed
WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—(AP)—The Office of Defense Transportation today removed its ban on the holding of state and regional fairs and at the same time relaxed its restrictions on conventions.

Beginning immediately, the agency authorized the holding of conventions with an out of town attendance of not more than 150. The old limit for out of town attendance was 50.

The ban on state and regional fairs has been in effect throughout the 1945 season.

Many projected fairs already have been cancelled, and the lateness of the season made it uncertain how many such events could be arranged.

The ban on conventions, trade shows and similar group meetings has been in effect since February 1. It was designed to relieve overburdened transportation and housing facilities.

Eighty-Fifth "Custer" Division Sails For U. S.
ROME, Aug. 16.—(AP)—The 85th "Custer" division sailed for the United States from Naples today aboard the big navy transport "West Point."

Also sailing on the "West Point" were 2,500 members of the 34th "Red Bull" division and smaller numbers of men from the tenth Mountain and 91st "Powder River" divisions.

Payments To Farmers
WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—(AP)—Missouri farmers received $11,567,835 during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1945, under all programs administered by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

Most of that amount, or $11,537,198, was in conservation payments. Parity payments totaled $21,881 and production payments $8,776.

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 16.—(AP)—Funeral services for Otis Lorton, 81, Tulsa world columnist and brother of Eugene Lorton, the newspaper's publisher, who died in a hospital today, will be held here Friday afternoon.

The columnist's death came after a prolonged illness. He returned Monday from the Wauhi-lau club, near Tahlequah, Okla., where he had gone for a short vacation.

Cancel Many Big Contracts

Amount To Four Billion In Air Transport Area

CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—(AP)—Approximately 4,450 army air force contracts, amounting to four billion dollars, were cancelled today in the Air Transport Service Command central district comprising 14 states and the Dominion of Canada. The Chicago region alone received 1,300 termination notices.

In announcing the cancellations, Col. Robert L. Finkenstein, commanding officer of the central district, said approximately three-quarter billion dollars in aircraft contracts remain in force.

Contracts excepted from cancellation include those on completed planes, engines, propellers, experimental research, development and service, maintenance, spare parts for prime contracts and fuel and lubricants, Col. Finkenstein said.

Cancellation of contracts on engines, propellers and some of the completed planes are expected momentarily, he stated, adding these contracts are being handled individually as specific terminations by headquarters. ATSC Wright Field. They include such facilities as Goodyear Aircraft, Akron, O.; Fisher division of General Motors, Cleveland; Chrysler-Dodge Soto, Hudson; Briggs and Murray of Detroit, and A. O. Smith Corp., Milwaukee.

Central district has had supervision of almost 6,000 contracts with approximately 1130 contractors, including some 950 signal corps contracts for airborne equipment.

These cancellations will save hundreds of millions of dollars of the taxpayers' money and will release thousands of workers for peacetime production, Col. Finkenstein said.

"Contractors should immediately make every effort to cancel orders for raw materials and parts on contract from sub-contractors in an effort to release both materials and facilities for civilian production," he continued.

The central district includes Illinois, Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana and the Dominion of Canada.

To Accept Terms For Surrender
CHUNGKING, Friday, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Reliable reports said today that the commander of all Japanese forces in China had sent word to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek accepting Chiang's terms for arranging the surrender of the enemy.

At the same time it was learned on good authority that U. S. Ambassador Patrick J. Hurley was prepared to fly to Yenan in an attempt to induce communist leader Mao Tse-Tung to come to Chungking and discuss settlement of differences between the communists and the central government which hold the threat of civil war.

There was good reason to believe that the terms of the Sino-Russian treaty, when disclosed, will have an important bearing on China's internal problems. Censorship has prevented publication of the terms here.

As for ending the fighting with the Japanese, Lt. Gen. Yasutsugu Okamura was said to have agreed to send a representative to Yushan in northeastern Kiangsi province to take orders from Gen. Ho Ying-Chin, the Chinese field commander.

He is expected to insist that Okamura instruct his troops to surrender only to duly accredited Allied representatives, thus preventing them from turning over their arms or themselves to Chinese communists.

More Cars Over Hills
Then too, for several years now you have been driving in light traffic. Perhaps you've got the easy habit of using the center of the road and not expecting many cars—even on the hills and curves. But lots of cars are coming back on the roads now and they're in no better condition than yours—perhaps not as good.

A pretty definite idea of what is in store, Colonel Waggoner believes, can be simply told in figures:

In July, 1944, Missouri had traffic accidents which cost 26 lives. But last month—after America had won the European end of the world war and "A" card drivers began to get six instead of four gallons for every gasoline coupon—there were just twice as many traffic deaths. That figure is not much lower than the 65 traffic fatalities in Missouri in July of 1941, before the U. S. entered the war.

Thus far the patrol has been pleasantly surprised at the few bad accidents in Missouri since the war ended. To keep things that way, Colonel Waggoner says, Just take it easy.

Conference Delayed For The Japanese Formal Surrender

Japs Given To Monday To Cease Attacks

Russians Allot Extension And Repel Attack

LONDON, Friday, Aug. 17.—(AP)—The Moscow radio reported today that Russia had given the Japanese Kwantung army in Manchuria until noon Monday to lay down its arms and surrender.

Broadcasting a report from Marshal Alexander M. Vasilievsky's headquarters, the radio said Vasilievsky had communicated with the Kwantung army headquarters while the Japanese began a counterattack on several fronts.

A Soviet communique broadcast last night said the Russians had repulsed the counter-offensive—first reported since Russia entered the war a week ago today—and gained new ground.

Chance To Communicate
Vasilievsky said the three-day extension was being ordered to permit the enemy commander to communicate with all his troops.

He added that Soviet forces would not cease their attacks until the Japanese began actual surrender.

The Soviets captured the prize Manchurian communications cities of Wanching, Kiamuze and Taonan, last night's Soviet war bulletin said.

In addition, the broadcast Moscow communique said, Soviet troops repelled the attempts of Japanese to retake the Korean port city of Seishin, whose capture by Soviet marines was reported on Tuesday.

There was no mention in the bulletin of negotiations for cessation of hostilities. The Reed army is under orders to continue fighting until the Japanese lay down their arms.

(Headquarters of the Japanese Kwantung army, in a broadcast over the Hsinking radio, appealed today to the Russians to cease their attacks. The broadcast, heard by the FCC, declared "Japanese first line forces have ceased all military movements at their present positions."

The Swiss radio said the commander of the Kwantung army had informed the Russians that Japanese troops have ceased firing.

Rush "Cease Fire" Order
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—(AP)—Tokyo radio said the commander of the Kwantung army in Manchuria is preparing to send "small-type aircraft" over the Manchurian front "to effect swift transmission of the order to cease all military activities and to surrender all arms."

Domei news agency, in a broadcast monitored by the federal communications commission made the announcement at 9:10 a. m. Friday Tokyo time (8:10 p. m. tonight, Eastern War Time.)

Domei said the commander planned to send over the planes

'Take It Easy' Is Caution Of Highway Patrol Her

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 16.—(AP)—Take it easy!

That's the word of caution today from Col. Hugh Waggoner of the state highway patrol. He wants every motorist in Missouri to heed it.

Your chances of finishing an automobile trip alive and unharmed, declares the director of the patrol, have been noticeably diminished by:

Your car. Sturdily it has gone about its task of transporting you during the war years, but, like the old gray mare, definitely "ain't what she used to be." For instance, the patrol recently tested the brakes on 30,000 cars and 6,000 trucks—one in every five—proved faulty in alignment or strength.

Your tires. Although gasoline has been put back on the "all you want" list, tires are still scarce and retreads or "no-treads" just aren't safe enough to drive at high speeds.

The highways. Despite the state Highway Department's efforts, both materials and labor have been mighty hard to find for four years.

Your own mental state. America has just won two wars. The dread and fear of war is gone. Your exuberance may lead you to drive at speeds greater than your automobile or your own alertness can stand.

More Cars Over Hills

Then too, for several years now you have been driving in light traffic. Perhaps you've got the easy habit of using the center of the road and not expecting many cars—even on the hills and curves. But lots of cars are coming back on the roads now and they're in no better condition than yours—perhaps not as good.

Pinned Beneath A Car In Canyon

YUMA, Ariz., Aug. 16.—(AP)—Pinned beneath their wrecked car for three hours, Mrs. Fred Jones, 72, and her nurse, Ophelia B. Teel, both of Kansas City, Mo., were in a Yuma hospital today following the machine's plunge into Telegraph pass canyon, east of here.

State highway patrolman Paul Dillard said Mrs. Jones apparently lost control of the car which overturned on the highway before hurtling into the canyon where it wedged between a tree and the precipitous wall to imprison the injured women.

Jap Planes Bomb Dozen Transports

Some Damage To Allied Vessels A Broadcast States

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—(AP)—The Japanese informed General MacArthur by wireless tonight, the federal communications commission reported, that Japanese planes had bombed some 12 Allied transports* of Shikoku at noon, four hours before the imperial cease-fire order had been issued.

The Japanese broadcast as recorded by the FCC said that the transports approached "extremely near" to Koshi, on the south central coast of Shikoku—one of the main Japanese islands—and that Japanese air forces "ventured to attack the Allied vessels, apparently causing some damage."

Before "Cease-Fire" Order
The Japanese broadcast specified that the time of the attack was noon today, Japanese time (11 p. m. Wednesday, Eastern War Time.), and that this was four hours before the cease-fire order.

The broadcast message "earnestly requested" that the Allies "refrain from approaching the islands of Japan proper" until ceasefire orders have been "fully effected."

No Confirmation
There was no Allied confirmation of such an attack.

"Radiogram number three, Aug. 16—at about noon, Aug. 16, a group of some 12 Allied transports approached extremely near the coast of Koshi, Shikoku. At that time the imperial order to cease hostilities had not yet been issued, and our air units ventured to attack the Allied vessels, apparently causing some damage."

"At 4 p. m. the order was issued to cease hostilities, as stated in our radiogram number one. It takes some time for the said order to reach the front line and produce full effect. It is earnestly requested that the Allied forces will refrain from approaching the islands of Japan proper until the order will have been fully effected."

Wrestling And Boxing Shows To Be At Fair

Wrestling Show Is Scheduled For The 24th Boxing On 25th

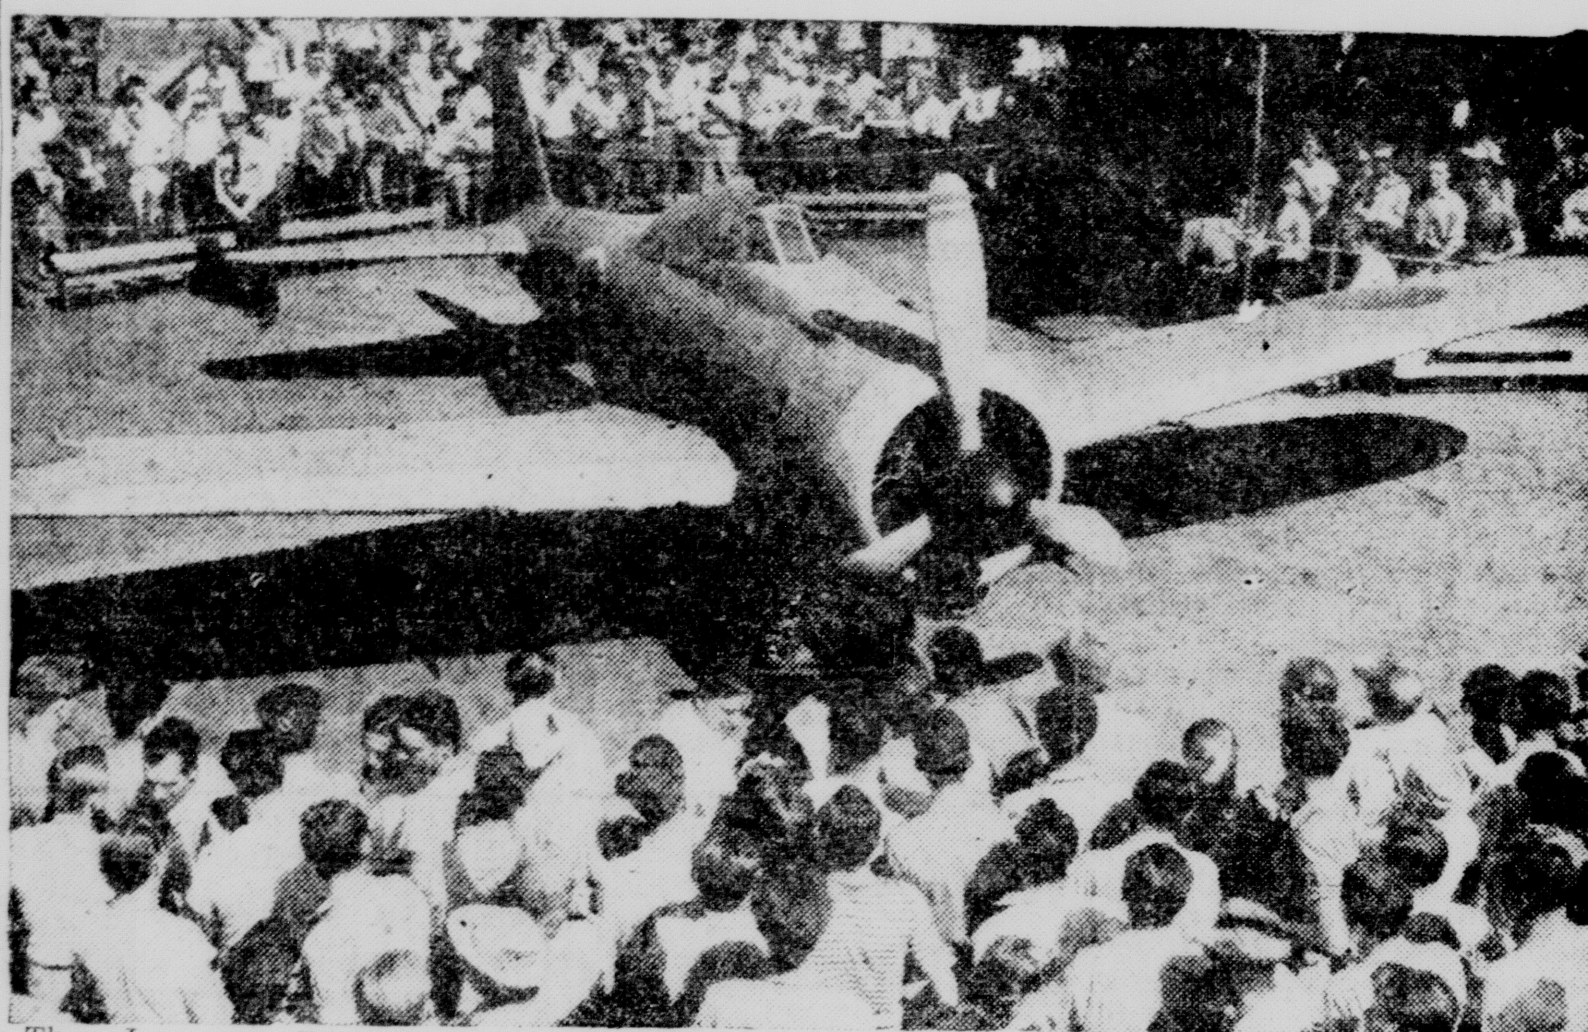

Wrestling and boxing will have their place at the Missouri State Fair this year, Ernest Baker, secretary of the fair announced Saturday. There will be a wrestling show to be held Friday night, August 24, and the boxing show is on Saturday night the 25th, promoted by Simon Kalis, who handles the wrestling shows in Sedalia for the American Legion, Pettis County Post No. 16, who will also sponsor the fair shows. Kalis is bringing to the fair two women wrestlers who will appear on a card which will also have two men matches. The women, Kalis said, will wrestle for the right to meet Mildred Benke, the champion among women in a show to be held in Sedalia during the winter season.

The women will be June Byers of Memphis, Tenn., meeting Elvyn Snodgrass of Columbus, O., the latter who appeared in the local ring several weeks ago.

Don McIntyre of Ottumwa is scheduled for the best two falls out of three, 90-minute time limit meeting Jerry Meeker of Milwaukee, Wis., while the other match is between Harold "Sonny" Meyers of St. Joseph and Marshall Estep of Sturgeon.

The show is expected to be one of the largest attended wrestling matches ever staged in Missouri, and will be held in the huge coliseum. The ring to be in the center of the arena around which the ringside seats will be placed. The general admission tickets will be in the regular seats around the arena.

The boxing matches Saturday night will bring together some of the colorful young boxers of Kansas City, who have participated in the Golden Gloves, and other amateur boxing bouts. There will be twelve bouts on the boxing card, promising a full evening of fistic entertainment.

The Japanese Zeno Combat fighter plane, shown above, shot down during a recent aerial attack in the South Pacific, will be on exhibition at the 1945 Missouri State Fair, to be held in Sedalia, August 19-26, to afford thousands of fair visitors their first glimpse of this widely publicized and deadly enemy war plane. Still carrying two 7.7 MM machine guns mounted in its nose, and a 22MM cannon in each wing, and with its propeller blades

Red Cross Corner

The Red Cross Canteen will be represented at the SAAF hospital on Sunday by Mrs. H. F. Rapp, chairman and the following volunteers: Mrs. Henry Neiman, Mrs. J. B. Poundstone, Mrs. William Rissler, and Mrs. W. E. Scotton.

Attention Please! The project which at the moment is occupying the attention of the chairman of sewed garments, Mrs. A. L. Lacer, is baby shirts. Work is going along, but not fast enough to assure the completion of the shirts by the middle of September. So we are asking for more volunteer sewers. We feel certain that all the Sedalia women whose skillful fingers have helped other assignments to completion in record time will volunteer their services for this present assignment. Please call Mrs. Lacer, 1979.

Mrs. Fred Lobaugh, and her group of volunteers are busy in the making of drapes for the mess hall at the Sedalia Army Air Field. The women thus occupied, are most interested in the work and the curtains promise to be beautifully made, and most satisfactory.

Mrs. John McLaughlin and her committee met at Red Cross headquarters Friday for the purpose of packing the completed knitted garments on hand. We are asking all our volunteer knitters to watch this column for further announcement concerning the next consignment, which will be ready for distribution.

The Red Cross Office will be closed V-J day.

Ens. James J. Noel, 22, USNR, Knob Noster, is in the cockpit of his plane in which he is credited with inflicting mortal damage to Jap shipping and shore installations during his recent tour in the Pacific. He was attached to Fighter Squadron 30 based aboard an Independence-class carrier. (Official US Navy Photo).

He was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for the rescue of the pilot and crew of a torpedo bomber. He also has been awarded the Air Medal.

Highlights of Tour The highlight of Fighting Squadron 30's recent tour was when 14 of its pilots intercepted an attacking group of Jap suicide planes off Okinawa and, in a 30-minute aerial slugfest, downed 47 enemy fighters and bombers.

Flying Hellcats from an Independence-class support carrier, Fighting Squadron 30 piled up an enviable record of successful operations against enemy air and sea power. In an overall total of 2,546 combat sorties, the Navy pilots destroyed 110 Jap planes in the air and 59 others they caught on the ground. They sank 11 ships, including a destroyer and one Naval escort vessel, while damaging 46 others, including a light cruiser, two submarines, a destroyer and three escort vessels.

An integral part of Vice Admiral Marc A. Mitscher's task force, Fighting 30 also rode out with its carrier the typhoon which caught attacking units of the Allied fleet off the Jap home islands.

Ens. Noel is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Noel of Knob Noster. He attended CMSTC, Warrensburg. His brother, Albert, is a sergeant in the Army Air Forces.

Draft Board Gives Aid to War Veterans

Fulfilling An Obligation To Help Find Jobs

Commenting on the Army's progress in carrying out its partial demobilization plans, G. H. Trader, chairman of the Pettis County Draft Board, stated today that his local board is fulfilling its employment obligation to veterans returning to this county, in accordance with the provisions of the Selective Training and Service Act, which places much of the responsibility for assisting veterans in finding jobs on the shoulders of the Selective Service System.

Mr. Trader states that inductions are continuing, and are necessary because of the constant need of the armed forces for replacements, but he added, the local board is keenly interested in seeing that returning servicemen are firmly re-integrated in civilian life.

"It is an understatement to say that plans for reemployment of veterans have been made," said Mr. Trader, "for the plans are already functioning."

The following men have been appointed Reemployment Committeemen, and have been delegated with the responsibility of assisting the veteran in obtaining reinstatement in his former position, or to extend practical assistance, if he wants new employment: L. W. Richardson, Sam Highleyman and P. Emmet Sullivan.

Should Have Interviews

Whatever his problems or plans for the future may be, the discharged veteran should have an interview with the Reemployment Committee, as soon as possible after he reports his new status to his local board. Even though he may believe he is thoroughly informed as to his rights and benefits, it is entirely possible that there may be some matters fitting his particular case that he has overlooked. The veteran may arrange to meet with our Reemployment Committee by stopping at the local board office.

These young men were taken away from their families and their jobs because it was necessary to win the war. When they return, it is just as necessary for us to exert every human effort towards seeing that those young men are given all the breaks to which they are legally and morally entitled.

For the benefit of recently discharged servicemen and those still in the service who may not be entirely familiar with the provisions of the Selective Training and Service Act relating to the re-employment rights of discharged veterans, Mr. Trader reviewed these provisions as follows:

Reinstatement Conditions for reinstatement in former position. (a) A veteran is entitled by law to reinstatement in his former position or to a position of like seniority, status and pay:

(1) If such position was in the employ of a private employer, the United States Government, its territorial possessions, or the District of Columbia;

(2) If such position was not a temporary one;

(3) If he left such position since May 1, 1940, in order to enter upon active military or naval service in the land or naval forces of the United States;

(4) If he satisfactorily completed his period of training and service and received a certificate to that effect;

(5) If he is still qualified to perform the duties of such position;

(6) If he makes application for reemployment within 90 days after he is relieved from service;

(7) If such position is in the employ of a private employer, the employer's circumstances have not changed as to make it impossible or unreasonable to reinstate the veteran to such position or to a position of like seniority, status and pay.

Additional Benefits Rights after reemployment—A veteran who is restored to a position in the employ of the Federal Government or a private employer, as provided in Paragraph 1 above, is entitled by law to the following additional benefits:

(a) He shall be considered as having been on furlough or leave of absence during his period of service;

(b) He shall be restored without loss of seniority;

(c) He shall be entitled to participate in insurance or other benefits offered by the employer pursuant to established rules and practices relating to employees on furlough or leave of absence in effect with the employer at the time such person entered military or naval service;

(d) He shall not be discharged from such position without cause within one year after such restoration.

Railroad Men Working On Road in India

NEW DELHI, India—Three Sedalia, Mo., men, are "working on the railroad" in India getting supplies through to our Chinese allies. They are: Technician 4th Grade Marvin C. Hazel, husband of Mrs. Marie H. Hazel, 1501 South Barrett avenue; Sergeant Carlyle W. Townsend, husband of Mrs. Roberta Townsend, 310 East Thirtieth and son of Mrs. George Shoemaker, Ottumwa; and Private First Class Elmer Paul, Jr., husband of Mrs. Velma F. Paul, 416 1/2 West Broadway, and son of Elmer Paul, 128 South Park, Sedalia, Mo.

Most of the railroad men in India are serving with units of the Military Railway Service on the meter-gauge Bengal and Assam railway. Soon after the India Burma Theater transportation service took over operation of the road in March 1944, its carrying capacity was increased 100 percent.

Started For Tea Planters

The road was built originally to fulfill the peacetime requirements of the Assam tea planters. Now it is one of the most important supply arteries for American and Allied troops in the Far East.

A large proportion of war material destined for China goes over the railroad from Calcutta to depots in Assam. There it is dispatched over the Stilwell road or flown over the Hump by transport planes.

GI railroaders in India have worked under rough conditions, a jungle and mountain outposts, and through monsoon rains. They, like their brother railroaders at home have done a transportation job unequalled in history.

Good Garden Practices By Boys and Girls

Awards To 4-H Club Members In Contest Held

Sixty-eight boys and girls, members of 4-H garden clubs in Pettis county, haven't let the inclement weather stop them in their drive to produce "Food for Victory". Three acres of green beans; 1000 tomato plants; an early garden, a summer garden, a late garden; are examples of what individual members are doing.

You might say, "My garden was too wet to work and now it is too hard. How can 4-H members do anything?" Your question can be answered in part, at least, by the work of the boys and girls who have followed the following good garden practices:

1. Heavy application of barnyard manure in the fall.
2. Plow garden in fall.
3. Two plot garden plan.
4. Plowing under green manure crop.
5. Following Missouri planting calendar.
6. Planting garden so it can be cultivated with horse-drawn implement.
7. Controlling insects.
8. Controlling diseases.

Adhere To Foregoing
All 4-H members have not been able to follow all good garden practices. However, the club members have found that there is a definite relationship between the quality of their garden and the number of these good garden practices they were able to follow. In other words, strictly adhering to the eight practices mentioned will guarantee a good garden regardless of weather conditions.

The last statement seems a little strong but you would agree to it if you would check the 68 gardens of Pettis County 4-H boys and girls. The members who have with the aid of their parents, plowed under a heavy application of barnyard manure, in the fall, have found that their garden this spring worked sooner, worked easier, and produced more than gardens without this treatment. This garden procedure helps control weeds, diseases, and insects, resulting in a much better quality vegetable.

4-H members who use the two plot garden arrangement, have discovered quite an improvement over the heavy application of manure and fall plowing. Weeds are kept down, insects controlled, and better quality vegetables are produced. The two plot garden has one plot in which three green manure crops are plowed under one year with no vegetable production until the next year.

The fact can not be over-emphasized that a strict adherence to the eight practices mentioned at the beginning of this article will result in an excellent garden year after year. Everyone will agree that the weather has not been suitable for gardening as it is usually performed. However, this is a fact that those who have applied good garden practices have excellent gardens this year. If you doubt this, check what you raised with what the best 4-H garden produced—radishes, lettuce, mustard, spinach, peas, carrots, beans, corn, onions, cabbage, okra, muskmelons, tomatoes, Swiss chard, squash, pumpkins, potatoes, cucumbers, sweet potatoes, turnips, watermelons, and eggplant. All of these are up and growing; most of the vegetables are being used.

Awards In Contest
Verily, a close application of good garden practices will produce a good garden as demonstrated by the 4-H boys and girls who took part in the garden contest.

Awards being made by Sears Roebuck Foundation are:

- One vegetable awards:
Blue ribbons—Gene Hotsenpillar; Bonnie Haggard; Alice Rissler; Chester Knox; Howard Luenighoener; Ruby Lee Vajen.

Pettis Countains Purchase Rams

Thirty seven of the forty rams that sold at the ram sale on August 3 at the Missouri State Fair ground were purchased by Pettis county flock owners. The rams sold for an average price of $7.41 per head.

These rams will add much to the quality and value of next year's lamb crop, says J. U. Morris, County Extension Agent, since records show that a good registered ram will add $1.50 to $2.00 per head to the value each lamb will have that is sired by such rams.

The 21 Shropshire rams in sale were consigned by the Northeast Missouri Shropshire breeders association and the 19 Hampshire rams were consigned by the Northeast Missouri Hampshire breeders association.

The Rice Leghorn Farm was the heaviest purchaser by buying thirteen of the Shropshires and ten of the Hampshires. Charles Arnold of Hughesville purchased two of the Hampshire rams, and W. G. Green, of Smithton, purchased two Shropshire rams. Other purchasers include: J. W. Rissler, Sedalia, Mo.; John S. Tucker, Weablate, Mo.; Eldon C. Leiter, Sedalia, Mo.; Les E. Licenses Near Vanishing Point Marriage licenses went on ration Monday but for the day only John Ryan, recorder, said. The reason was the recorder's office ran out of licenses, and had but three or four on hand.

Asked about a license, Mr. Ryan said, "Tell the parties to wait until tomorrow, if they are not getting married before then or later as I only have a few and there might arise an emergency. I'm having more printed and I should have them late this evening."

However, he didn't run short until Monday after three had been issued Saturday afternoon and Sunday morning. Those who received licenses are:

George P. Darnell, Warrensburg, and Roseanne Dugan, Sedalia.
Eual H. Whiteman, Sedalia, Joan Dronman, Los Angeles, Calif.
Kenneth W. Campbell, and Ruth Klein, both of Windsor.

Curing Potatoes For Storage

After Irish potatoes have entirely matured, as indicated by the vines drying and dying naturally, they may be harvested and stored for winter use. It is important in harvesting the potatoes to avoid exposing them to the direct rays of the hot sun for even short periods. The best harvesting time is very early in the morning, before the sun becomes hot, or late in the evening after the sun has gone down. Thus, protecting the potatoes against the hot sun reduces the breakdown of the cells in the potato which is often caused by sunburning.

After harvesting, potatoes should be laid out in a driveway, on the north side of a building or under a shade tree where the direct rays of the sun will not reach them at any time. It is best to spread them out so that they are only one layer deep. Spread out thus in the shade with plenty of ventilation they will cure for storage in from 7 to 14 days, depending upon the humidity in the air. Potatoes are ready for storage when their skins or protective coverings have become tough and firm.

Too much light during the curing period will cause the potatoes to turn a greenish color. This is undesirable as it decreases the quality of the potatoes.

Scientists have found that the growth rate of chicks increases as the temperature in which they are raised decreases.

Legion Loses 14 Inning Ball Game 3 to 4

Three Run Rally is Staged in Seventh But is Tied in 8th

The Junior Legion baseball team lost another tough game, it being a thirteen inning affair to the Higginsville Merchants 4 to 3.

The game as a whole was a fast and well played contest on the part of both teams. The game was played at Higginsville Sunday.

Jimmy Cooney who was pitching for the local aggregation was removed in the fifth inning because of a sore arm. He was replaced by Bill Livengood who came through in fine shape and had good support from his team mates. It was not until after Higginsville had scored a run in that inning that he was pulled and shifted over to first base.

Shumaker handling the catching duties displayed real generalship in holding both Cooney and Livengood during their turns on the mound.

Walker in one inning made a beautiful trap of a hard hit ground ball, touched first base and was kept from a double play when Thomas dropped the ball at second.

Sedalia trailing 2 to 0 up to the seventh inning came through with a rally which netted three runs when Higginsville fell victim of three errors with a timely hit by Rodgers. In the last half of the eighth inning Higginsville scored the tying run when Rodgers dropped a fly ball and one run scored.

The game ended when Smith singled, Harrison fanned, Green was hit by a pitched ball and M. Inman came through with a single to score Smith.

Pettis County 4-H Campers Have Returned

Three Days Were Spent At Federal Recreation Area

Seventy tired but happy 4-H club campers returned to Pettis county from the Federal Recreation Area at Monticler Park Sunday, after spending three days there at their annual 4-H club camp. They not only had a good time but learned much about wildlife conservation from Mr. W. H. Stuesse, Wildlife Conservation Agent of Pettis and Cooper counties, and Dr. F. Olen Capps, Chief of the Education section of the Missouri Conservation Commission.

On Friday Mr. Stuesse took the camp group on a field trip and gave them a demonstration on aquatic plantings for ponds and gave them information on identifying plants best adapted for pond plantings. On Friday evening Dr. Capps showed the group a wildlife picture and talked on the conservation of wild life.

Handicraft, comics, singing, folk games, baseball, skill games, and stunts had their share on the program.

"This year older 4-H club boys and girls assumed extra responsibilities while at camp. A 'big brother and sister' program was carried out which gave special leadership training to the older members."

Kansas City Doctor Chosen

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Lt. Col. Wallace Graham of Kansas City will be appointed personal physician to President Truman, it was learned today.

Graham, a medical officer in the army, is a personal friend of the president. He visited Mr. Truman to discuss the appointment on Saturday.

The employment probably will become effective after Vice Admiral Ross T. McIntyre returns to Washington from an assignment. McIntyre was a personal physician to President Roosevelt.

Lt. Col. James Wallace Graham, to be appointed physician to President Harry S. Truman, is well known in Sedalia especially by some 250 Sedalia and Pettis county boys who attended the service in December, 1940, as members of the then 128th Field artillery, Missouri National Guard.

It was Lt. Col. Graham who supervised the physical examination of the Pettis county boys at the time they entered the service for federal training. The guard at that time was federalized, supposedly for one-year training, but was in service when the attack on Pearl Harbor came.

When he conducted the examinations Lt. Col. Graham remarked: "I never saw such a fine group of young men."

School Board Has Meeting

Monday evening at the Smith Cotton High School members of the Sedalia Board of Education held a lengthy meeting in which the opening of the city schools for the 1945-46 term were discussed and this included the filling of three vacancies in the teaching staffs.

The principalship of Smith-Cotton High school was discussed and it was the consensus of the members that this place should be held open pending the possible early return of Joseph E. Benson, who has been serving in the navy. In the interim Dr. Heber U. Hunt, superintendent of Sedalia schools, will be in charge.

Tomato Wilt Is Destructive

Tomato wilt is the most destructive tomato disease in Missouri. It becomes most evident in hot weather as it makes its most active growth when the temperature is between 80 and 90 degrees Fahrenheit. In Missouri this is just about the time the tomatoes are beginning to mature.

The earliest symptom is the rolling and yellowing of the lower leaves. Very often this occurs on only one side of the stem. Frequently, one stem may be entirely killed before the rest of the plant shows much injury. The yellowed leaves gradually wilt and die, and as the disease progresses, yellowing and wilting continue up the stem until the whole plant is dead.

The disease may be definitely identified by breaking off a leaf and examining the water conducting tissues which lie just beneath the outer green covering. If the plant is infected with wilt, these tissues will be dark brown. Since the disease lives over in the soil, it is best to grow tomatoes not often than once in four years on the same soil.

Miss Grady in Charge Social Security Office

Miss Margaret Grady, who holds the position of junior case work supervisor with the Social Security in Pettis county, has been appointed acting director in charge of the office, taking the place of Mrs. George P. Darnell, the former Miss Roseanne Dugan, who resigned August 10.

Hubert Harris of Jefferson City, director of public assistance for the Missouri Social Security Commission, stated today no one had yet been appointed to take the place permanently, but a director would be named soon.

Raise Bonds in Traffic Cases

"Speeding and reckless driving must stop in Sedalia. Arrest anyone and everyone exceeding the speed limit of 25 miles per hour," Chief of Police Anson Fennell announced to all police Monday. His instructions also call for the bonds to be raised from the usual five and ten dollars to $25.

Chief Fennell and Judge C. W. Bente, the latter police magistrate, have agreed the fines will be assessed accordingly and in most cases no doubt will be $25 and higher.

The increase in fatal accidents, hit-and-run drivers, and other accidents has brought about the strict order from the chief.

This morning two cash bonds were ordered forfeited by Judge Bente. They were the bonds of two persons charged with careless driving.

Dill Hinken, 2100 East Broadway, who was arrested by officers Saturday night following a chase from Broadway and Ohio to New York and Broadway, a distance of fourteen blocks, forfeited a $25 cash bond.

Elvis Savage, Warrensburg, arrested Sunday by the police for reckless driving, failed to appear in court and his cash bond of $10 was ordered forfeited.
